FARLEY DISAPPEARED.

He Had Often Expressed a Desire to Fight For Cuba.

HE LEFT HOME LAST WEEK.

He Was an Adjutant in the 11th Regiment of the National Guard—Look
His Commission With Him
Wherever He Went.

COLUMBUS, Jan. 30.—In the 11th Regiment, Ohio National Guard, Farley disappeared last week. Subsequent investigation showed that he had had trouble with his superiors and had probably gone to fight for the Cuban cause.

The only thing he took from home was his uniform commission and he had often expressed a longing to join the ranks besides which he brought a commission to Philip Smith who was in command of the regiment.

He must have reached Philadelphia
just in time to catch on the railroad train. No other information concerning his fate is known.

WE CARRY

Serviceable, stylish, elegant and fashionable clothing. What makes our goods so very good is the fact that they are so handsomely made up from first class suitings. Fine cloth and fine tailoring are our clothing twins, so to speak. We never separate them. All we do is to make them a winning pair, hands down, with an array of prices that prostrate competition. Our mode of keeping business brisk is to keep customers too well satisfied to go elsewhere.

Hours and Business

In 1612 the Dutch established a colony at the Cape of Good Hope. It went on flourishing for nearly a century, then was lost by the English, who had declared and won their colonies in Africa. The Dutch were then scattered and relied on the vicinity of Port Elizabeth, where they had the hope that they would thrive and multiply and increase their possessions. In 1652 they came to the Cape Colony, Africa. Thereon—where to be sure like their ancestors, but half say no in it as their treatment of the black slaves was then as bad as the white slaves.

The month of December 1650 showed a great increase of business, as revealed by bank clearings up to March 1651. But it was compared with 1652 these bank clearings were still larger. In November of that year showed that the business of the country is not yet reached its full normal condition.

Imported Song Birds Thrive.

Inquiry has been received by the Spokesman Review concerning the results of an experiment made a few years ago with European singing birds in Africa. Several hundred were brought home and released in the vicinity of Port Elizabeth, with the hope that they would thrive and multiply and increase their possessions. In the election were specimens of the songbirds mentioned above, and many more.

The experiment has proved a pleasing success. The imported songbirds have spread over a wide area, and economically few have been seen east of the Cascade mountains. The climate is favorable, and the citizens of Germantown, who raised the purse to introduce the songbirds, are sweetly here to witness the results.

The new fauna in Paris I think they are simply beautiful. I don't like

That is Why

The Ohio State Journal has called upon Hon. James E. Spear (Republican member of the Ohio House of Representatives from Clinton county) to resign. Within the past week, Mr. Spear has secured some memorable victory concerning an alleged offer to sell a Guardianship in the Ohio Penitentiary. The Journal says that:

"Mr. Spear has been guilty of improprieties that will forever destroy his usefulness as a member of the Legislature, and the easiest way for him to slip back into obscurity is to tender his resignation to Speaker Sleep." His conduct certainly has not been such as would command him to the good graces of his constituents, and the Republicans of Ohio should not be burdened with the weight of his offense."

In a lecture on the present condition of the currency delivered at Harvard University on Wednesday last, Professor Taussig showed that the embarrassment of the Treasury was due to two causes—"low returns from revenue, due to the McKinley Tariff act, and the big appropriation of the Harrison Administration," and that the permanent remedies are likewise twofold—"removal of the legal tender notes and separation of the two functions of the treasury, which now has to be financial agent for the Government and also maintain a gold reserve." After such a clear diagnosis and line of treatment it won't do to question the capacity of "College professors" to discuss finance, or to contribute to the stock general knowledge—especially those who are large respecting the best means of maintaining a safe and stable currency.

ORIGIN OF THE TREASURY DEFICT.

In the recent Senate debate on the finances Senator Aldrich and others have vehemently asserted that there was no deficit in the Treasury at the close of Harrison's administration requiring an increase of taxation or a loan of public money. A sufficient answer to this is in the fact that Secretary Foster, in his Treasury report in December, 1892 recommended an increase of the internal revenue tax on whisky. Would he have made such an official recommendation had the Government not been in need of more money to meet ordinary expenditures? It is true that the whisky ring was then lobbying for an increase of the tax on spirits, but Secretary Foster cannot be accused of a desire to promote the interest of that combination at public expense.

On the last of December 1892, the receipts of the Treasury for the year were less than $2,000,000 above the expenditures, and a surplus was exhibited only by a system of bookkeeping which transferred upwards of $50,000,000 deposited by the national banks for redemption of their notes to the credit side of the account, when this was actually a public debt. Besides this manipulation of figures, there is about $15,000,000 of subsidiary silver, smooth halves, quarters and dimes, lying in the Treasury and of no use for public disbursements as all is included in the Harrison administration's surplus.

DON'T KNOW HER

A Letter Forwarded Here in Search of a Clue
Which it is hoped Will Result in the Finding of this Unfortunate Woman's Sister

Several days ago Postmaster McHaffey received the following letter, which he delivered to the relatives of the late Jacob Haller, but they know nothing regarding that which appears in the letter. The Times DEMOCRAT hoping to find some clue to the unfortunate woman's relatives publishes the letters which are as follows:

DEAR SIR.—I fearing that Mr. Jacob Haller may not live in Lima or that he may be away from home I enclose letter addressed to him. You may read and hand it to him, other wise please send enclosed addressed envelope for reply, which I hope you will make. You and myself are equally interested in this case. She is a very old lady and has seen good days. Thanking you in advance for your trouble. I am,

Yours truly,
E. J. MCORACK
County Treasurer, Kane Co., Ill.

The letter is as follows:

Mr. Jacob Haller, Lima, Ohio.

DEAR SIR.—There is at my house an old lady, 82 years of age, trying to go her sister. She came from Helena Montana, where she buried the last of her children, a daughter. She came by the way of St. Louis and when within about four hundred miles of St. Louis she was taken sick and remained unconscious for several days, and in the meantime lost the letter which directed her to her younger sister, Mrs. Mary Schank who lived as she thinks, about four miles from Chicago, but she does not know in what county. She thinks it was near the State line, but does not know whether it is Indiana or Wisconsin. She spoke of you and gave address as a person who would know the address of Mrs. Schank. She is naturally very bright and intelligent. Her name as she gives it is Lizzie Mussen, and she is staying with me and we are doing the best we can to make her comfortable, but she is exceedingly anxious to find her sister.

She is about out of funds, but I would be glad to furnish what money she needs and go with her if I know the address of Mrs. Schank.

I hope you will be kind enough to give me this information in case the same is known to you.

Thanking you in advance for the information I am

Yours very truly
